

Welcome to the Temple Sinai Library!

Where the People of the Book Get Their Books

The Collection – The Library Committee invites you to explore our collection of over 10,000 books, periodicals, and DVDs and enjoy it to the fullest. Whether for the sheer pleasure of reading and learning or to find information on a specific subject, Jewish practice, personal concern, or issue of current discussion, you can browse our stacks or search our online catalogue (under the LEARN tab on the Temple's homepage). Our curated collection includes children's and young adult literature; Jewish fiction – classics and new releases; Jewish history and philosophy; cookbooks, travel and Jewish art; books relevant to Temple Sinai programs – and much more. We continuously update our collection with donations as well as new purchases.

Curbside Pickup – Take a look at the Library's catalogue and e-mail the Librarian by Tuesday evening with books and DVDs you would like to borrow. We will contact you Wednesday morning to confirm availability. Returns may be placed in the box outside the main entrance M-F 9 to 4.

Book Discussions- Join us for our Sunday and Tuesday morning book discussions. Upcoming events are posted on the Library homepage. The next two in the series are Sunday, October 25 at 10 am: I Want You To Know We're Still Here by Esther Safran Foer and Tuesday, December 8 at 10 am: The Liar by Ayelet Gundar-Goshen.

I didn't appreciate we had a library for a long time, and never really understood the extent and quality of the collection until I started volunteering in 2010. Herb Mintz, Library Committee Co-Chair

Don't Miss Out—Email the Librarian to join our weekly Circle of Book Lovers for information about book discussions, Jewish Film festivals, online programming, and new releases in the Jewish literary world. Follow us on Twitter @TSDCLibrary, watch your email for our newsletter Check It Out, and look for library announcements in the Temple's Wednesday emails and quarterly report.

Support the Library - There is much more to maintaining the library and its collection than people might realize. Volunteers can find a niche that fits their interests. As you think about ways to connect with other Temple members, we hope you will consider joining us. Please also consider donating to the Library Fund, the sole source of revenue for the purchase of books and other media.

Sincerely,

Ruth Polk, Temple Sinai Librarian (rpolk@templesinaidc.org)
